

I'm writing to express my frustration and outrage about Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the presidential election.

I see this as an extension of the monopolization of our media outlets. Remember, the airwaves are used by corporations, but not owned by them. Sinclair's position is indefensible and seems to be against current FCC regulations. It is not in the public's interest to preempt scheduled programming to air a political attack piece. However, it is in Sinclair's interest to use their media power to reelect a president who has been supportive of their efforts to further monopolize the airwaves around us.

-zach poff